BULBS BY THE DOZEN

We send DIVIDED FIELD GROWN ROOTS (or bulbs).

Orders for bulbs will be booked for spring delivery any time in the year.

Unless otherwise specified, if we are sold out of any variety, we will substitute one of the same general class as to color, etc., which will be as good or better than ordered.

Size of Bulbs. Some varieties of dahlias always produce very small bulbs (or tubers), while other varieties make large ones. So do not consider small bulbs as worthless, for they are equally as good as large ones.

GUARANTEE—We Guarantee Every Bulb We Sell. The utmost care is always exercised in selecting every bulb we send out, and every one is believed to have at least one good sprouting eye that will produce a good plant under proper care. In all cases bulbs to be replaced must be returned.

We Guarantee All Bulbs to be true to name and sure to grow at the time they are sent out, but we cannot guarantee bulbs to grow if kept in a dry place a long time before planting, or otherwise abused.

Bulbs are shipped at owner's risk.

The best way to send money is registered letter, money order or express order.

DO NOT HESITATE to send small orders, they receive the same careful attention.

TERMS: Cash, invariably, in advance, except previously arranged. Customers who are not personally known will be notified when to remit the amount of their bill.

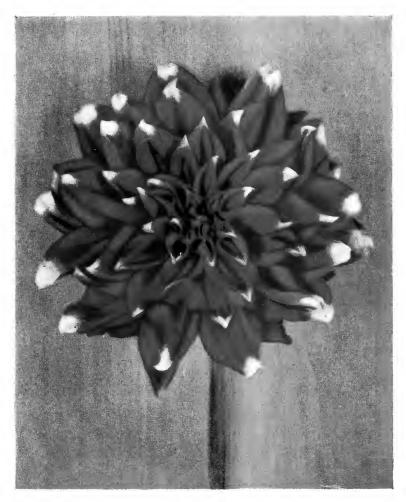

Bulbs are shipped from April 1st to June 1st, unless specified.

Do not delay ordering until the time to plant as many varieties may be sold out before that time. Order early.

If Bulbs are received before it is convenient to plant them, they should be kept in a moist place until planted.

We use the utmost care to prevent errors in labelling and packing, but if an error does occur, kindly notify us, that it may be rectified immediately.

Send for special prices on large orders.

NEW DAHLIA ROTARY An Honor Roll Dahlia

No doubt the finest bi-color dahlia yet introduced.

The Sensation of the Season.

The one Dahlia worthy of the name it bears.

NOTE:—Above cut of flower was made from photo, taken the 8th of November after frost had touched our fields. This accounts for poor color and form. Former color photos, which showed the bloom as it really is, were lost by accident.

We consulted many prominent Rotarians before we dared adopt this name for our new introduction for we knew that any power to be worthy of this name must be unusual in every way and must stand the most rigid tests. How well it has succeeded, is borne out by the many articles commending it that have appeared in the official magazine "Rotarion" and also in the organs of prominent clubs such as "Spokes" of New York and "The Pepper Box" of St. Louis.

It was given the honor of being officially named by Rotarian Leon C. Faulkner at the Club meeting in New York, on September , 1931.

Prominent Rotarians requested a bouquet to present at the dinner given in his honor to International President, Sir Sydney Pascall of London, when on his official visit to the St. Louis Club. Unfortunately this was impossible as they were killed by frost before the time arrived.

Well described by the St. Louis "Pepper Box" as follows:—
"The Rotary Dahlia is a Chinese Red at the heart, with pure white tips. It was exhibited for the first time in New York at the American Dahlia Society convention. The exquisite combination of rich colors of red and white is destined to make this one of the most universal as well as the most popular flowers in the world.

"We wish to nominate the Rotary Dahlia as the International Rotary Flower.

"We do so because it typifies in the language of the flowers, more definitely than any other flower, the aspirations of our organization.

"It is a stately flower—having poise and dignity.

"It is a beautiful flower—its crimson red is symbolic of the same crimson red blood of every human being in the world and our desire to keep that blood where it belongs—in the veins and not on the ground.

"It's white, symbolic of our ambitions to keep our own skirts clean not only in our business contacts but in private life and help the other fellow by leading the way. "It is a single flower—that is, just one flower to a stalk—emblematic of the unity of purpose of Rotary.

"It is a unique flower—it has petals that remind you of the cogs of a wheel."

Spring delivery only

Price $10.00 per tuber for guaranteed field grown root divisions.

ORDER EARLY OUR SUPPLY IS LIMITED

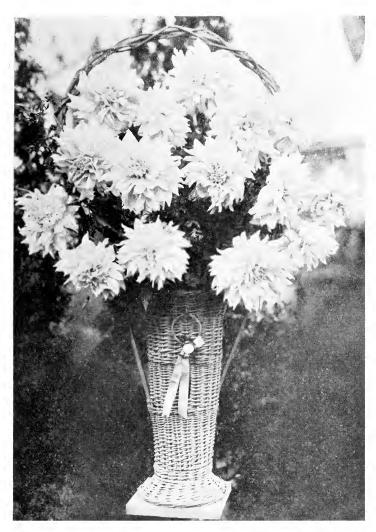

Roots stored for you and shipped at planting time in the spring.

Only good live tubers will be shipped and orders will positively be filled in rotation as received. If we find that we have insufficient stock to fill all orders at planting time money will be refunded.

DATSO (La Lee)

This is a large, well-formed Decorative. The color is a glowing deep rose pink, a little deeper in color than the Radiance Rose. The stems are perfect and the foliage is a lustrous green, and leathery in texture. It is of medium height and the large flowers are produced very freely. A beautiful Dahlia and very much admired both at the exhibitions and in the garden.

color is between that of Mrs. I. De Ver Warner and Jersey's Ideal, with that silver sheen of Ideal. Dwarf habit; free flowering; strong stems $1,00
WODAN. Old rose suffused with golden apricot 50c

PEONY-FLOWERED DAHLIAS

This new type of Dahlia originated in Holland, and has become very popular. The flowers are very large, and resemble somewhat the semi-double peony in form. The petals are very peculiarly twisted and incurved, and the flowers are produced on extra long stems, making them invaluable for cutting or garden decoration. We cannot recommend this new class of Dahlias too highly.

ALBERT WARD. Rosalane purple, mammoth blooms on good stems, good free bloomer ________50c

AURORA. Orange salmon, free flowering, very good stems ______50c ried on top of stiff stems. Color deep maroon JANE COWL. A massive deep decorative with petals curled and wisted. Color a glistening bronzy buff and old gold blending to a deeper shade toward center of flower, reverse of petals a pale flesh color, giving the flower, as a whole, a warm glow. A stem of unusual strength holds this giant decorative erect over a plant of ideal growth. Foliage thick and leathery, insect resisting$1.00

JERSEY'S BEAUTY. Received several gold medals. A perfect bloom of Erosine pink carried high above the foliage on very strong stems.
The finest pink decorative to date50c

tion variety, and distinctive for the large garden $1.00 JEAN NICHOLS. A very distinctive dahlia both in petal formation and in color which is a bright madder rose $2.00 JERSEY'S BEACON. The most spectacular of the Jersey Family.
Color bright scarlet, with a buff reflex giving a two toned effect. A free early bloomer of extremely massive proportions with sturdy stems 75c JERSEY'S EMPRESS. A large anthracene violet dahlia of pleasing formation, having narrow and wavy petals. Good depth and substance. Color is almost sunproof. Stem good$1.00 JERSEY'S MAMMOTH. Truly a monster. In color a rich golden mahogany. This variety is not a good cut flower and is recommended only to those who want the very largest blooms$1.00 JUDGE MAREAN. Is a riot of color, ever changing as the flower ages, salmon pink, red, orange, yellow and pure gold. A constant bloomer 50c
KATHLEEN NORRIS. The largest and best of all Dahlias in the rose pink class. It is very beautiful, a big massive flower of clear amaranth pink. Broad overlapping petals with twisted ends, and always full centered. The fine long stems hold this very heavy flower upright. It is a profuse bloomer and the flowers keep wonderfully well $5.00

ing excellent keeping qualities, long stiff stems, immense size, perfect formation. A prize winner 75c LAVENDER GEM. Different from Mrs. I. de Ver Warner, a pure lavender, not orchid color. A very thick decorative with broad petals terminating in curled points, center very tight and full, one of the first in the field to bloom. Stem is long and rigid, foliage dark green and leathery. Excellent habit of growth MEPHISTOPHELES. Rich ruby red, small golden yellow points at the end of some of the petals. Very large flowers on strong stems;
MRS. EDWARD W. WINSOR. An immense exhibition type decorative, composed of many narrow petals which are serrated at the points, giving a fluffy appearance, color Rosalia or a golden old rose; flower held high, plant has tall habit of growth, free bloomer and stem excellent $2.00
and stem executent

MONMOUTH CHAMPION. One of the best. A strong, vigorous grower, producing beautiful exhibition blooms of a brilliant orange flame color. Perfect stems and insect-resisting foliage	.00
MRS. HORACE MANN. Color is a rich salmon. Flower is composed of many narrow curled and twisted petals. Excellent stems which hold the flower well above the dark green leathery foliage. Free bloomer and good keeper when cut MRS. G. S. FLOY. This new seedling is a magenta with each petal streaked white. The flowers are very large on good stems, a very

GENERAL CULTURAL DIRECTIONS

The dahlia unlike most flowers, is not particular as to soil and environment, but will succeed on almost any soil where anything else will grow. About the only soil where the dahlia will not succeed is a heavy sour, wet clay. But they prefer a medium light, sandy loam, not exceptionally rich, but yet well supplied with humus and in good mechanical condition.

Unlike some growers, we do not recommend heavy applications of barnyard manure in the spring or at planting time. If the soil is very poor and needs fertilizer of this kind or is deficient in humus, it should be applied and worked in, in the fall.

We prefer planting in a reasonably good piece of ground and not apply any fertilizer other than a small amount of good, readily available chemical fertilizer at about the time of the second hoeing or about the time the first buds are forming and then no other unless the plants receive a check.

An open sunny location seems to favor them at all times, but they do very well in extremely shady places where the sun only touches them for a limited time each day. In such shaded places, however, the plants will make a much larger and more tender growth than out in the open and in some varieties the colorings will not be so intense.

Dahlias should be planted in this section about May 15th to June 15th, in rows about 3 feet apart and from 4 to 6 inches deep. After they have attained a height of about 8 to 10 inches, begin to train them according to the system preferred. Either on stakes, the branching system or in massed lots.

Perhaps for yards and for general purposes, the staking system is best and for this the stakes should be set at time of planting and the plants tied to these stakes as they grow, thus protecting them from winds and allowing freedom of passage from one plant to another when in bloom.

If the branching system is adopted, stakes will not be necessary, as after plants have developed two sets of leaves, the top is pinched out which forces the plant to send out a branch at each leaf, thus making four branches instead of only the one main stalk and, consequently, gives a stockier plant with more flowers and a neater appearance.

A plant of this kind will not be easily blown down by the winds. This system, however, makes blooming time about 2 weeks later.

If space is limited, the massing system may be adopted, in event of which bulbs should not be planted more than 1 to 2 feet apart, allowing the plants to form large masses supporting each other and giving a solid mass of flowers and foliage and avoiding the ugly unnatural effect that numerous stakes invariably give.

To obtain the very largest and most perfect flowers in any system, only the best and strongest buds should be allowed to develop. The rest should be pinched off, allowing the plants to throw their full strength into developing the remaining ones into exhibition blooms.

Do not be afraid to cut your flowers. The more you cut the more they come. If you can't use them yourself give them to your neighbors and you will then be helping yourself at the same time you are giving them a great deal of pleasure.

Bulbs should be dug soon after the first heavy frost kills down the plants in the fall and immediately stored in a cool (not freezing) reasonably dry place.

Place in boxes, barrels, crates or on shelves, preferably upside down and do not cover with any material such as ashes, sand, dirt, leaves, etc. Materials of this kind almost invariably hold too much moisture and cause the bulbs to decay. Do not store near furnace or other heat as they will dry and shrivel and become worthless.

In the spring, before planting time, take out the clumps and divide by cutting first in two parts and then separately as nearly as possible to one good root with one good strong eye. Never plant more than two roots in a single hill, as in this case you will get an immense number of stalks and a consequently large number of flowers which the roots will be unable to support and your flowers will be exceedingly small and imperfect.

These are only very general instructions, as it is impossible to give any one fixed set of instructions to be followed by all, as soils, climate and seasons differ so. We hope, however, that we have given the prospective purchaser an idea of the principle of dahlia growing from which with the use of a little judgment he will be able to obtain the great pleasure and satisfaction which only the dahlia grower knows, for surely there is no flower that will succeed on so wide a range of soils, that will adapt itself to so widely varying altitudes and climates and that will give such an abundance of bloom of unlimited color variations at so small an outlay of money and labor.

THE AMERICAN DAHLIA SOCIETY

The Bulletin of the society is published quarterly and contains valuable information on Dahlia growing. It is sent free to every member. Dues $2.00.
